

#tindermercy by Jeff Gardner

Hey hey hey, how are you my old friend?
Long time no see! What's new with me?
Well let me tell you my pathetic story.....

Now just an hour ago, I saw a lady-oooh so fine!
One look was all it took – I had to try to make her mine
So I put it out there, I laid it on the line
Now I'm sitting, waiting, hoping she sends me a sign

Back in the day we used to listen for inflection
Read between the lines to judge acceptance or rejection
Give a ;-) and hope she thinks it's worth her time to linger
These days all we get is just a flick of a finger

So now I'm waiting for some #tindermercy
I'm hoping for some #tindermercy
Will she show me #tindermercy?

I used to post old photographs from when I was good-looking
Since that time I've lost some hair and ate too much of my own cooking
Though ladies love to laugh and dig a sense of humor :-D
If you don't match your profile pic it's funny as a tumor :- (

I've waited for an hour, so you've got all the power
Obviously, you're well worth waiting for...
I could wait a full ten minutes more!

NO! I can't wait, don't hesitate, I know you'll see the light! (swipe to the right)
If you want it (swipe to the right)
If you need it (swipe to the right)
Come on, baby, you've gotta let your (swipe to the right)
Fingers do the walking let your (swipe to the right)
Fingers do the talking
Swipe to the left if you're not impressed, it's such a simple test
And if you swipe to the right I'll know you're feeling outta sight
Won't you let me take you on tonight?

Yeah, modern dating, so frustrating, always hurry up and waiting
Opportunity never knocks, no notifications in my box....oh mercy, mercy, mercy
I tried eHarmony, it didn't work for me
I don't have time to make a Vine*
Snapchat? Don't know much 'bout that!
Now I'm crying mercy!!!!!!
Modern technology, making a fool of me. Mercy, mercy.

*yes, this song was written before Vine closed up shop :-)
